INTRODUCTION

The Alur people are a Nilotic group living in Uganda and Congo. They belong to the Nilotes ethnic group which is the subgroup of the Nilotic that comprise the Nilote and Nilo-Hamites. The Nilotic group was formed at the beginning of the Second Millennium in Bahr el Ghazal particularly in the town of Rumbeck that is in the Province of Upper Nile in Sudan.¹

Ethnologue estimates at 500,000 the number of the Alur in the Democratic Republic where they are found in Oriental Province, Ituri District and particularly in Mahagi Territory. According to the same source, they were 920,000 in Congo and Uganda together in 1991.² But the Report from the “Table Ronde pour le Développement du Territoire de Mahagi” held in Mahagi (DRC) from 10th to 15th August 2009 by "CADEMA" (Carrefour pour le Développement de Mahagi) estimated at 1.905.040 the number of the Alur people in Congo alone. This constitutes 2.90% of the total population of the country which is 65.751.512 inhabitants. They occupy 5.216km² which represents 0.22% of the scope of the Congolese national territory (that is 2.345.000km²). The density of the Alur is an average of 365 inhab/km².³ The Alurs are scattered in 8 different sectors that The Mahagi Territory (DRC) administrative report distributes as follow in 2007.⁴

The Alur are agriculturalists. Their main crops includes millet, sorghum, cassava, simsim, nuts, palm oil, potatoes and a variety of beans. Now, they also grow cotton and coffee. Besides, they keep cows, goats, chickens cattle and sheep. They are also very much interested in fishing (in Lake Albert) and hunting. The Alur are mostly Christian. Joshua Project presents the following statistical data about Christianity and other religions among the Alur in the Democratic Republic of Congo.

We believe that a better understanding of the Alur proverbs is an asset that would help people interested to communicate with the Alur and most particularly the church to properly contextualize the Gospel to them as proverbs are part of their important way of communication. Besides, there is much need presently to inculturate the message of the Gospel to the Alur as a good number of them seem to return back to their traditional religion that they claim to be more responsive to their worldview and context.

The present work which is a compilation of 100 Alur proverbs from the letter “A” to “J” is just a pioneer exploration of the vast riches of wisdom found in the Alur proverb’s genre. For this fascicle, each proverb is first presented in Alur (in its literary structure), then come a literal translation in English, followed by it’s meaning in English, then it’s meaning in French and finally it’s corollary in the Bible if any. For biblical reference, we used New International Version of the Bible (NIV) which copy is also found at http://www.biblegateway.com/versions/New-International-Version-NIV-Bible. We hope that this work will be of some help to the English speakers as well as French speakers interested to the Alurs and for the Alurs themselves in the Democratic Republic of Congo particularly.

At that time the kingdom of heaven will be like ten virgins who took their lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom. Five of them were foolish and five were wise. The foolish ones took their lamps but did not take any oil with them. The wise ones, however, took oil in jars along with their lamps. The bridegroom was a long time in coming, and they all became drowsy and fell asleep. At midnight the cry rang out: ‘Here’s the bridegroom! Come out to meet him!’ Then all the virgins woke up and trimmed their lamps. The foolish ones said to the wise, ‘Give us some of your oil; our lamps are going out.’ ‘No,’ they replied, ‘there may not be enough for both us and you. Instead, go to those who sell oil and buy some for yourselves.’ But while they were on their way to buy the oil, the bridegroom arrived. The virgins who were ready went in with him to the wedding banquet. And the door was shut. Later the others also came. ‘Lord, Lord,’ they said, ‘open the door for us!’ But he replied, ‘Truly I tell you, I don’t know you.’ “Therefore keep watch, because you do not know the day or the hour.
